

SWINEBROAD PUT OVER GREAT SALE

Mitchell Taylor Farm Sold Near Danville for $84,333.41, or Average of $326.84 Acre

The Mitchell Taylor farm in Boyle county was sold to seven different parties for $84,333.41 or an average per acre of $326.84 for the 257.72 acres. This was one of the most successful sales ever made by Swinebroad, the real estate man. In fact real estate men say the most successful considering the present times and conditions.

A large crowd of 1,500 were present and great interest was manifested. "They said" Swinebroad would not sell this time. The farm was subdivided into a number of tracts, and by selling some tracts separately and then bunching them in different ways, Swinebroad handled the tracts of land in a number of different ways which could only be done by one who is pastmaster at the art, and it was all done to the satisfaction of the bidders and the owner.

The land sold from $207.50 per acre to $630.00 per acre, some with improvements brought over $1,700 per acre.

J. H. Epperson purchased tract No. 20—65.11 acres at $225 per acre.

J. H. Rauhman tracts 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17—62.49 acres at an average of $349.88.

Martin and Shelby, tracts 9, 10, 11—20.41 acres at an average of $249.30 per acre.

C. R. Martin, tracts 1 and 2—7.23 acres at average of $460.36 per acre.

J. D. Whitehouse tracts 6 and 7—3.86 acres at $425 per acre and tract 8, 1.74 acres, at $550 per acre.

H. G. Shewmaker tract 3—6.81 acres at $410 per acre, tracts 18 and 19—20.88 acres at $320 per acre, and tracts 21 and 22—56.58 acres at $207.50 per acre.

H. G. Shewmaker also purchased tracts 4 and 5 with the improvements for $17,677.32, but by agreement with Mr. Shewmaker Mr. Taylor retained these two tracts.

LOCAL LEGION OUGHT TO BE IN THIS CONTEST

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., April 21—With the view of carrying off the baseball championship of the American Legion of Kentucky by winning the finals at the state convention in September, teams of several posts in the state are preparing for games with other members to be played during the meeting in Lexington, according to reports received at state headquarters here. The executive committee of the state department has approved the plans of the athletic committee for semi-finals and final games to be played at Lexington.

Each district will play games within the district under sole direction of the athletic director on July 31, the director deciding by elimination or otherwise, the best team in his district. During August a series of elimination games between districts will reduce the contenders to the best four legion teams in the state.

On the day before the state convention, these four teams are to play a double-header at Lexington. Two of the teams will thus be eliminated. The winners will play for the state championship during the convention.

Winners of the championship will be awarded individual medals and the post they represent will be given a silver cup.

R. L. TELFORD,

MR. EMMETT TAYLOR FORMALLY ANNOUNCES

Prominent Young Republican Candidate For Tax Commissioner Before Primary

A bombshell was thrown last week into the Republican County Committee which sought to arrange a ticket for the county offices, when Emmett Taylor, who was turned down, made his formal announcement for the republican nomination for County Tax Commissioner, subject to the action of the republican voters—the rank and file of the party.

Mr. Taylor is one of the best known young republicans of Madison county. He is a prominent farmer of the Baldwin section, and has a wide acquaintance all over the county. He is known as a man of the highest integrity, passed the examination successfully to qualify for Tax Commissioner, and his friends say that he will be supported in his ambition enthusiastically all over the county. He authorizes the Daily Register to formally announce him for the nomination subject to the primary on August 6, 1921, and his name is therefore added to the list of candidates for office as shown in another column. Mr. Taylor points out that he is the only candidate from the 8th Magisterial district.

In his formal announcement and statement to the voters, as reason for his action, Mr. Taylor says:

Announcement

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of Tax Commissioner at the primary election to be held on August 6th, 1921, subject to the action of the Republican party.

In making this announcement I desire to say that I have no complaint of the members of the Republican committee, who voted for Walter C. Engle, at the meeting held on Monday, April 4th nor have I any criticism of Mr. Engle. My reasons for not submitting to the action of the committee is the fact that its chairman and secretary, after my announcement for the nomination, by persuasion and solicitation succeeded in getting me opposition, and then proceeded to use every method to defeat me by the advantage they had as the chairman and secretary of the committee. I am informed that after the first vote was announced that they appealed to the committee to defeat me. In addition to this they (the chairman and secretary of the committee), solicited proxies from members of the committee whom they knew would be absent from the meeting, and voted the proxies against me. This method, and the other methods referred to used against me, but would not only defeat me, but would defeat any person against whom such influences were used. I believe that such methods not only smack of "Boss Rule," but such methods as using proxies in the selection of candidates is illegal and not in accordance with the rules and regulations of the republican party, the cardinal principal of which has always been a rule "by and for the people."

adv It W. E. TAYLOR.

Rufus Hadden, prominent farmer, is dead at Mt. Sterling.

TELLS OF HEALTH WORK IN LOUISVILLE SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., April 21—Object lessons instead of text books are the basis of health work among the children of the Louisville public schools, Miss Emma Dollinger, director of Health Education in the Louisville schools, told the Kentucky Education Association in an address here today. The children are taught "to do, rather than simply to know," she said.

In 26 of the city schools, she said, the children are weighed and measured and compared with normal for their age. Reports are sent home and the co-operation of parents is sought.

"Our purposes are three fold," said Miss Dollinger, "First—to establish habits that, followed, will insure good health.

"Second—to establish attitudes toward people and things so that unsanitary conditions will be instantly recognized and make the beholder too uncomfortable to tolerate them.

"Third—to establish intelligence about health so that the girl and boy may not be victimized by charlatans and may have an open mind toward public health workers.

"Of these the first aim is the most important. It is the keynote of our work in the first six grades. We want our children to do rather than simply to know. We therefore use no textbooks. Instead we have daily inspection by the teachers for performance of health duties most needed: we have health clubs; health campaigns; keep health scores and the monthly marks in hygiene or the report are based in what the child does not on facts he knows. We want the child to see the relation between keeping health and good physical condition."

Children in the primary department begin getting the lesson of good health through the primary teachers, Miss Dollinger said. They are taught to build a bungalow, room by room, for a family of dolls, with the ideal health condition taken into consideration. Through making of play towns they are taught safety and neighborhood sanitation.

Experiments are conducted, she said, to show the relation of bacteria to health. Food lessons are based on testing and learning values of foods themselves. Respiration, ventilation, circulation, first aid and safety methods also are taught. The children are taken on trips through model dairies, factories, mills, and the water plant and wherever else the teacher may think they will learn a lesson of the city's effort toward good health conditions.

UNION CITY

The Waco High school defeated Union City in a loosely played game of ball Friday afternoon. Features were the fielding of the Waco shortstop and leftfielder and Moberly's fielding at short and Moore's batting for Union City.

"Kentucky Belle," played by a high school cast last Saturday night, was just about professional.

It has received more applause and favorable comment than anything we have yet attempted. Miss Tommye Rupard as Miss Mariah Douglas, an old maid of aristocratic tendencies, played and looked the part of her character. Mr. Tom West as Col. McMillen received a big laugh each time he appeared on the stage.

Miss Emma Noland as Isabel Douglas was on the alert and played her part well, as did Miss Mary Lou Dunbar as Maria, who was an all-round accomplice. Mr. Jerry Baldwin as Cason Gordon, could not have done better, and Mr. Walter Moore and Miss Erle Moberly as Henry and Cindy, the negroes, were simply ideal. The chorus girls, telephone linemen and boys of the village were done well and added compliments to the success of the play. Dr. Blake and Miss Madden were representative of their parts.

Miss Gertrude Collette was the Saturday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Olds.

The paperers are giving the Christian church a fresh paper coat. The local membership has spent a lot of money on the church and it will present a neat appearance when it is finished.

Mrs. Edwards, of Irvine, is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. O. Brooks and other relatives for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Noland, of Richmond, were over to see "Kentucky Belle" last Saturday night.

Quite an interesting program was given by the Wilsonian literary society last Thursday night.

Messrs. Sam and W. C. Griggs returned from Florida last Sunday, looking hale and hearty. They ran into the cold snap and as a result Mr. Sam Griggs is suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. Shelby Taylor's finger, which was so badly hurt while he was stretching wire fence a couple of weeks ago, is doing nicely.

Miss Gertrude Collette is in Louisville this week attending K. E. A. She will return by way of Cincinnati to hear Billy Sunday preach.

FIRST CHRISTIANS

SMOTHER BAPTISTS

In Church League Game Wednesday by 18 to 4—Jones Jennings is Hurt

Methodists	1	0	1.000

In a game that became almost a farce during the closing innings when the First Baptists' pitchers were unable to stop the heavy slugging of the First Christians, the latter won the game in the Church League Wednesday afternoon by a score of 18 to 4.

The support that the Baptist gave the pitching they got was also quite inferior at times. In the absence of Captain F. C. Gentry, who is attending the Kentucky Educational Association at Louisville, the Baptist team seemed to go to pieces. However, they had no practice, and it took several innings to discover where the boys were best suited, if at all.

On the other hand, the Christians played good ball. The game was close for an inning or two until Sandlin, pitching for the Baptists, tired, and then his support went to pieces in several places. Both Neff and Douglas pitched nice ball for the winners.

The first real accident of the league occurred when Jones Jennings, catching for the Christians, split a finger badly, and had to retire. Lilly, who relieved him, caught a nice game. The box score tells of the slaughter:

Total Eclipse of Moon April 21

A total lunar eclipse will be visible throughout the United States the night of April 21. The moon then will be north of the center of the earth's shadow, but nevertheless near enough to it to become completely immersed. At 11:57 o'clock in the evening the moon first touches the penumbra, but it will not be until well after midnight that the darkening becomes conspicuous. Three minutes after 1 o'clock in the morning of April 22, the edge of the true shadow will be reached and more and more of the moon will be hidden until 2:23 o'clock it will be completely obscured except for the faint reddish light refracted through the earth's atmosphere. Totality will last only 42 minutes and the moon will be entirely clear of the shadows at 4:26 o'clock though it does not leave the penumbra until 5:22 o'clock.

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mines—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past. At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. And our best buyers say at mine prices, whether a railroad buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year, this less costly method is the only one possible through a plan evolved by a large and established concern, THE EARLY & DANIEL CO., INC., with main offices at 491 Commerce Building, Chicago.

MILLIONAIRES PAY A FORTUNE IN TAXES

New York, April 21—Did you know that 22 men in the United States confessed to the collector of internal revenue, "Big Bill" Edwards, that their net personal incomes last year were in excess of three million dollars?

Did you know that John D. Rockefeller not only had a personal income of sixty million dollars, but drew a check for $38,400,000 and mailed it to the government as his income tax contribution?

Some amazing figures, running close to the billion dollar mark, are made public by Edwards through official reports now in the hands of the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington.

Twenty-eight gentlemen admitted, it seems, having incomes during 1920 of $2,000,000 up, while 13 others said languidly they received between a million and a half and two millions.

The late H. C. Frick had $11,250,000 income and out of it the government got $7,160,000.

Two other men frolicked about with seven million and a half and each paid the government $4,800,000. They were George F. Baker and Wm. Rockefeller.

Edward S. Harkness and J. Ogden Armour were taxed to the tune of $6,250,000. They paid the government a flat four million each while Henry Ford and W. K. Vanderbilt as well as Edward H. Green, having each five million dollars on their hands during the year, disposed $3,200,000 of it by sending it to the government in the form of a certified check.

These figures appear as personal incomes and do not, of course, represent the staggering principal that yield so golden a flow.

If, for example, Rockefeller's net income was sixty million dollars and this sum represented only 6 per cent interest on the principal, the principal itself must have been one billion dollars.

In like fashion, Frick must have had a capital of $187,500,000 to return him $11,250,000 in interest.

The records announce that 28 of the richest taxpayers are scattered.

About 14 came from New York two from Delaware, one from Michigan, one from Ohio, two from Rhode Island, two from Texas and five from Massachusetts.

Vincent Astor's income amounted to $3,750,000 during 1920, and he paid a tax of $2,400,000.

James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank, as well as Thos. F. Ryan, Daniel Guggenheim, Charles M. Schwab, J. P. Morgan and Joseph Weylner had an estimated income of $3,600,000 and paid approximately $2,400,000 as an income tax.

Essay Writing Contest

Louisville, Ky., April 21—Plans for having all pupils of the 7th and 8th grades of the public schools of the city, both white and colored, take part in an essay writing contest on Friday, May 6, are being made. The subject will be "Thomas Jefferson and His Writing of the Declaration of Independence."

The contest has been conducted in Louisville schools annually for the last 25 years, being started by the late R. V. Bernheim, of Louisville, who bequeathed to the schools a sum sufficient to carry on the contest. A board of seven trustees, including Judge Shackelford Miller, Prof. Ross P. Hallock, E. W. Hays, Frank Miller, Alfred Seligman, Captain Alfred Pirtle, and Samuel H. McMeekin, are directing the contest.

Prizes will be awarded July 4 when the school children will gather around the Jefferson monument in front of the court house. The statue of the great American statesman was erected by Mr. Bernheim.

Miss L. A. Fuesting, secretary of the board of trustees, said more than 400 essays were turned in by school children last year and that a greater number is expected this year.

Mass Meeting at Red House

Rev. J. A. McClintock has received the following announcement: The mass meeting for your charge on the educational movement, will be held at Red House, Monday night, April 25, G. E. Cameron, Presiding Elder.

Georgetown grocers and druggists will again this year close at noon on Thursdays during the summer.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. A. "on suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind, he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. All druggists have been appointed agents for Allen-rin in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase price on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

Thomas—Hersher

Friends here had a most pleas-when the wedding of Captain

Hersher was announced in the Lexington Leader as follows:

The marriage of Mrs. Robert
Lee Thomas, formerly Miss Irma Trent, of Lynchburg, Va., to Captain Fred Wilson Hersher of Lexington, was solemnized at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Church of the Good Shepherd with Dr. Thomas L. Settle, rector of the church, officiating. The attendants were Mrs. Bishop
Clay and Mrs. Crosby Mitchell
Gassaway and Mr. Robert Harris, of Richmond, Ky.

The bride, one of the most strikingly beautiful women in Kentucky, wore a navy blue tail leur with harmonizing accessories. Immediately after the ceremony Captain and Mrs. Hersher
which they will be at home at 531 East Main street.

The wedding is of unusual social interest throughout Kentuckboth families and the exceptional beauty of Mrs. Hersher. Capt.

Hersher is a retired army officer, having served with distinction at army posts in various parts of the world.

Captain Hersher and his bride have long been leading figures in

Miss Williams, one of the best

Miss Williams and the city ex-

Machine of One Purpose

BUTTER FAT is worth a lot of money today. To save every particle of it is the part of wise business economy. The Primrose Cream Separator is the standby of the wise dairyman.

The more you see of the Primrose separator and the longer you use it, the better you will like it. It has but one purpose—to separate cream from milk. It saves all the cream. The escape of a little cream here and there may not strike you as such a serious matter, but bunch those losses over a period of time and you will be astonished at the amount. That is where the Primrose separator protects your pocket-book.

The Primrose is the only cream separator that forces oil through every bearing, not just to them.

Quality does tell! Measured by covering capacity and length of wear, one gallon of Hanna's Green Seal Paint proves itself equal to two gallons of so-called "cheap" paint. And there's a reason: viz.,—no paint can be better than the ingredients that go into it.

If a paint is sold at a ridiculously low price it simply means that it is lacking in these necessary ingredients and contains cheap adulterants. HORSE THIEF HELD TO GRAND JURY

The Lexington Herald said Thursday morning: Clarence T. Gibson, Madison county negro, who was arrested here Sunday charged with horse-stealing, was given a hearing in police court Wednesday morning and held to the Fayette county grand jury by Police Judge J. J. Riley. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Morton, of near Richmond, an aged couple, came to the hearing to testify. They said they had loaned the horse to Gibson for half a day and he had failed to return. Gibson, who was arrested at a livery stable here, after he had tried to dispose of animal for $55, said he had been forced to come to Lexington by a man who claimed he was an officer. Gibson did not know who the man was.

Meteor Explodes In Georgia

Macon, Ga., April 20.—A meteor passed over the middle and southern Georgia about 9 o'clock this morning, exploding and showering hot metal as heavy as iron. The meteor was seen in Macon. It exploded over Cordele and also at Pitts, east of Cordele, and also at Albany, southwest of here.

At Pitts, in Wilcox county, more than a dozen heavy explosions were heard, and then, as if a machine gun had been pressed into action, there was a sharp crackling in the air of several minutes, and hot metal, many pieces weighing six pounds each, began to fall.

Dug Up Pot of Old Money

Keanoke, Va., April 21.—After dreaming several nights of buried treasure, Albert Dameron, a young Keanoke county farmer, while plowing on his father's farm near here, has unearthed a pot containing $13,100 in $20 gold pieces, $401 in silver and several pieces of paper money consumed by the teeth of time in that it was impossible to discern their date of issue.

The latest date on the coins is 1823, the fortune having been buried for almost a century. The money, carefully wrapped in buckskin, was in a metal pot beneath a rock upon which young Dameron tripped when plowing, and which gave way beneath his weight. So fearful was he that the money would be taken away from him that he said nothing about his discovery until today. The farm recently was sold to Dameron's father by C. B. Strickler, of this city, who had been told by old citizens that there was treasure hidden on the place.

PLAGUE IS PERIL TO CHINA'S GRANARIES

Bubonic Sweeps Southward In Manchuria; Dead Donkey Brings $2 as Food

"SPEED UP FUNDS," IS PLEA

In a recent report from Charles R. Crane, U. S. Minister to China, to the American Committee of the China Famine Fund, it is stated, that a Bubonic plague which a few months ago appeared in Northern Manchuria, has crept southward until it now threatens the main grain supply of China, which increases the burdens of this woe-beset nation.

As far back as 1917, China's troubles began to multiply when the Yellow River, always known as "China's Sorrow," overflowed its banks and swept the great provinces of Shantung and Shansi. The crops were destroyed and millions of persons made homeless. Floods are not unusual in north China, but then came the great drought and not until last summer did the rain clouds come between the dry brown earth and its tormenter—the sun.

Faced Peril in Silence.

But during these days, months and even years, when the food was gone, China did not raise her voice for help. The world did not know of the great tragedy in the Far East enacted on a parched stage with 45,000,000 famished people as the actors.

It seemed that at last their troubles had ended when the green things began to peep above the ground last summer. Then came that old enemy of mankind—locusts in droves, in clouds so thick they obscured the light of sun descended as from nowhere, and almost over night the earth was stripped of every living growing thing. The stage once more was a parched, brown, dry desert; but many of the actors had passed into the land of their ancestors.

In some recent information received, an instance is recited describing the terrible destitution of the famine stricken land—a donkey had died in a distant province from lack of food. Its owner carted it into the interior of the famine area where eager bidders finally ran the price up to $2 to use its carcass for food.

Plague Threatens Granaries.

And now the plague threatens China's granaries. Unless the plague can be checked, Mr. Crane asserts, the granary relied on for the relief of millions of famine victims in North China will be cut off.

"The situation is rendered more serious," writes Mr. Crane, "by the fact that Manchuria is literally crowded with foreign exiles." There are no fewer than 600,000 Russians who fled before the Bolshevik executioners, 250,000 Koreans, and thousands of Chinese who formerly lived in Siberia, but who have been driven into Manchuria by the Red Armies.

"Concerted efforts are being made in cities and towns along the Chinese Eastern Railway to combat the plague, hospitals being established and the victims isolated. Efforts also are under way to fight the source of the disease—the rats that carry the germ. Thousands of persons already have died, and have been given hasty burial.

Spells Doom For Millions.

"If the grain supply of Manchuria is cut off, the famine victims in Shantung, Chihli, Honan, Shansi and Shensi will be doomed, Manchuria representatives of the American Red Cross, the Chinese Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. have informed the Peking authorities of the danger and urged that grain buying and shipments be hastened."

In the famine area there are approximately 40,000,000 persons subsisting on dry leaves, bark and roots, and only through the speed of funds to obtain this grain before it is cut off by the plague can these people be saved from death by starvation.

The raising of funds now, at the time when all efforts must be speedily put behind the work, is possible only through organizations in local communities. The Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Chairman in Kentucky for the China Famine Fund, issued a call to persons in each community in Kentucky to get together at once and form a local organization for the solicitation of funds for these starving people before it is too late to save them. Through the China Famine Fund money collected in America is distributed to every organization in the famine district doing relief work. The task is too big for one organization, the American Red Cross reports. The Red Cross already has appropriated $1,000,000 and has a large force of workers in the field. "It is a humanitarian call," says Dr. Mullins, "the need is great and the time element is an important factor. Wherever Committees have not been formed within the confines of this State, sympathetic friends are urged to form their own committee and ask the headquarters at Room 9, Board of Trade Building, Louisville, for further information. It will be gladly furnished.

It is always convincing proof that a man is all wrong when he does not agree with our opinions.

Mrs. Williams Asks $200 a Month

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., April 21.—Mrs. Alice Williams, wife of R. D. Williams, the turfman, today filed a suit for separate maintenance. She asks $200 a month and costs to take $10,000 cash in lieu of Louisville property, the choice of which, she asserts, Williams gave her in a separate agreement last September. She alleges Williams then also agreed to pay her $200 a month, but has defaulted in the payment.

Williams, in a statement today, admits making such a contract with his wife, but asserts it was made on condition that the couple separate permanently. He asserts she returned to him and he considered the contract abrogated.

EVANGELIST TELLS PEOPLE OF 'SIN'

Another Big Congregation Hears Dr. Doolan at Baptist Church on Wednesday Night

The attendance at the revival at the First Baptist church is increasing daily. The building was filled to capacity on Wednesday night and the interest was intense. Anyone who was present could not fail to feel the enthusiasm of the great crowd.

The exercises began with song service and prayer by Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, pastor of the First Christian church, after which Mrs. T. D. Chenault and Dr. O. Olin Green sang a duet—"He Was Nailed to the Cross," which gave the congregation a foretaste of the wonderful message which Dr. Doolan later brought.

He gave an analysis of the word "sin" from the Bible standpoint, showing that the so-called "small sin" is just as much in the sight of God as the more heinous crime. How God is a just God and, therefore, punishes the sinner; how all men are sinners, yes, every one of us, and yet how God, wonderful to say, loves a sinner, but hates sin; how He "so loved sinners" that He gave His only Son to die as a ransom in their stead. It is the only chance man ever had or will have to master sin, to attain eternal life—the only hope, the only opportunity ever offered "whereby we must be saved" from death, the grave and a hopeless eternity.

Dr. Doolan held the attention of the great crowd to the last word, and his great sermon will not fail to bring the result so ardently desired by every follower of the Master who was present.

The services will continue at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening until further notice. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

K. E. A. OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Louisville, April 21—Teachers observed the semi-centennial celebration of the Kentucky Educational Association Wednesday with a program summarizing education during the last 50 years.

Prof. J. J. Glenn, of Madisonville, President of the Association from 1888 to 1899, spoke on its early history, and Prof. McHenry Rhodes, of the University of Kentucky, showed that educational work in Kentucky was on the upgrade.

Summarizing work ahead for teachers at this session of the association and for the coming year, Prof. J. H. Risley, Superintendent of the Owensboro public schools, and president of the Association, said the enemies of public education, the forces of conservatism and selfishness were making their last stand in Kentucky.

Other speakers on the program included Miss Mabel Lee Cooper, of the West Tennessee State Normal school; Dr. Robert J. Alex, president of the University of Maine, and Dr. George Dayton Strayer, of the Teachers' College of Columbia University.

Departmental meeting occupied the attention of the teachers during the afternoon.

Tonight Dr. Alex and Dr. Strayer addressed the association, the former talking on "Our Duty to the Americans of Tomorrow," and the latter on "A National Program of Education."

PAT CALLS HARVEY BY HIS REAL NAME

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 21—Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, charged today in the Senate the appointment of George Harvey as ambassador to Great Britain, was "a reward for his efforts, and reward is O. K." To discredit the Wilson administration, he asserted, Harvey's pursuit of Wilson, through his journals and otherwise, was only comparable to the "millions of hellhounds that were stationed the gates of the infernal regions." He added that the ambassador had "no equal as a creator of prejudice and stirrer of strife," and that it was "a vindictive, self-appointed, intolerant, political accident."

25 YEARS IN PEN MADE HIM HOMESICK

Frankfort, Ky., April 21—Humming a song of his own composition and smiling from ear to ear, George Rollins, negro, paroled from the Frankfort Reformatory in February, voluntarily returned there today. A few days ago Rollins made his report to the State Board of Charities and Corrections in verse, telling how hard it was to keep straight and how well he liked his new position.

He was paroled on February 26, 1921, to work in a hotel in Beatyville, but the lure of the prison walls was too strong for the negro and he told his employer that he was going back to serve out his original sentence of six years.

According to his own story, he simply could not get along with his boss and the proprietor of the hotel threatened to return him. Rollins told prison officials that he decided to save his boss the trouble of sending him back, so he returned himself.

The negro was sentenced from Fayette county in 1917 for robbery. Prior to his parole he worked on the grounds at the Mansion and Gov. Morrow was instrumental in securing his release. The negro has served more than a quarter of a century in the "walled city" and prefers it to the outside world.

UNION COLLEGE WILL MEET NORMAL FRIDAY

Union College from Barbourville will be the attraction on the Normal field tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. As the rivalry is very keen between these two schools, a hotly contested game is sure to be staged. Eastern will likely present quite a different line-up than that seen in previous games as there are some new men entering school for the new term. Come and see the new boys work out.

An admission of 50 cents will be charged to men and 25 cents to women and children. The only entrance to the field will be located between University Hall and the tennis court. Come and back your town, your school and "the boys."

HAYWOOD FLEES PEN SENTENCE

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, April 21—Federal officials today received confidential information that Wm. D. Haywood, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World and scheduled to begin a sentence in the Leavenworth, Kansas, penitentiary this week, has fled the country, and is now in Moscow or Riga. Otto Christensen, attorney for Haywood, said he had been informed that Haywood sailed from New York about April 1st, and landed at Riga, Latvia about April 16th. He thought Haywood was not fleeing from the penitentiary sentence for violating the espionage act, but had gone on a personal mission.

The Hardest Job in Every Business

In nearly every line production has been increased on account of the war. The hardest job ahead is to find a market in peace times for what those factories turn out. Money is made—not in manufacturing—but in selling. Yet selling seldom receives the attention it deserves.

The number of factories a manufacturer can build—the profit he can earn—are limited by the amount of merchandise for which he can find a profitable market.

If demand can be kept ahead of production, a profitable market is sure. And the one way to keep demand ahead of production is by advertising—teaching the public to use more of your goods.

In the past the South has bent her energies on manufacturing. The marketing of her products were largely left to others who took the raw materials and staples and converted them into specialties, trade-marked, advertised and sold them. And, invariably, it is the selling of specialties that pays the wide margin of profit and the selling of staples that pays the slim.

Greater profits—keeping conditions in our hands instead of on them—depend upon our marketing our goods as well as upon our making them.

The South's cotton goods should be known by brand-names in Detroit just as we know and buy the various makes of automobiles produced by the citizens of that enterprising Michigan city.

Lumber, of which the South is the Nation's greatest possessor, will be needed for reconstruction and the merits of our various woods should be convincingly told by advertising.

The South is the greatest fat-producing section of America. In the vegetable oils from her cotton-seed, peanuts and soy beans she produces more fat than all the dairy cows of America—more fat than all the hogs slaughtered in a year. More Southern-made and marketed compound lards and salad oils would bring additional millions into Dixie.

Cane syrups, coffees and all the other epicurean delights for which the South is famed would find a bigger demand if backed by adequate advertising. And such a demand would automatically fix a profitable price.

Marketing our products as well as making them would furnish work for the hands and brains of our returning sons—provide room for the tallest ambition and stop the emigration to the North and West of the talented and ambitious.

There was a time when we could sell the merchant and let him push the goods. But today the hardware, grocery and drug stores will carry from 2,000 to 10,000 different items. Pushing any one is impossible.

Wise manufacturers are marking their goods so that they can be recognized—telling the public about their merits and inducing the folks to pull them off of the shelves. And in this respect, at least, an ounce of "pull" is worth a pound of "push."

The advertising agencies of the South have had years of experience in advertising and marketing many commodities. They know the methods that have proved successful, because their whole time is engrossed with the problems of selling.

Their contact with leading manufacturers in many lines has made them intimate with various methods of winning trade—methods of securing distribution—fighting substitution. It is their business to know how business is being built.

Their services cost nothing. They are paid a commission by the publishers to make advertising profitable to the manufacturer. It will be a revelation to many business men to know the varied forms of assistance these agencies can render—information on markets, containers, trademark law, distribution methods, dealer cooperation, service in preparing booklets, copy-writing and real information on the value of different classes of advertising media.

Write wire or phone any of the accredited advertising agencies of the South and arrange a conference with them to discuss how to increase sales. Let them help you solve the hardest job ahead.

CHAPMAN FAVORS CONSOLIDATION

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, April 21.—The one-teacher rural school can be a potent factor in the development of rural life, but the advantages of consolidated schools are superior in every way, J. Virgil Chapman, State Supervisor of Rural Schools, said here today in an address before the annual meeting of the Kentucky Education Association. "Mistakes may be made, as in other affairs, but no community has ever been so reactionary as to abandon a well-organized school of the type (consolidated) and return to the old one-room single-cylinder plan of rural school," he said.

Mr. Chapman spoke on "Some Phases of Rural Progress." "Every country child in the land must first of all have a real teacher—healthy, happy, well-trained, well-fed, well-housed and well-paid," said Mr. Chapman. "Democracy demands that the country boy and girl be given equal educational advantages with those of the city. It likewise demands that such requisites as agricultural vocational and high school instruction be furnished without severing home ties.

Common decency, sanitation and health as well as the influence of environment on social and moral development—all suggest to us the necessity for a commodious, attractive, properly lighted, heated and ventilated school building. It should be provided with assembly hall, gymnasium, library, modern equipment and ample ground for play and agriculture; demonstration work when desired. For comfort, economy and convenience of the teachers, practically all of us agree that such a school plant is not complete without a teachers' cottage. It is, of course, understood that we should have longer terms, regular attendance a richer and more satisfactory course of study, a fine spirit of community service—with the school a vital and effective center of the intellectual, agricultural, social and civic life of the entire community.

"It is evident that these almost ideal conditions can scarcely be realized except in those sections of the country where consolidation of schools is feasible."

"It is not our purpose," Mr. Chapman continued, "to discredit the work of the one-teacher school. Some communities, because of roads, topography and economic conditions will have them for many years to come and through the influence of zealous, capable teachers of personality and power they can be made potent factors in the development of rural life. On the other hand, history, statistics, observation, and experience of teachers, pupils and patrons in every state in the country testify to the superior advantages of typical consolidated schools."

The natural conservatism of Kentuckians has made the progress of the consolidation movement slow, the supervisor said, continuing: "The tendency toward consolidation or grouping of schools is shown by statistics: Under the head of 'white schools with two or more teachers,' we find in 1911, 631 schools; in 1915, 868 schools; in 1919, 1022 schools. Under 'white consolidated sub-district schools,' meaning the union of two or more schools, usually without tax or transportation, we find in 1911, 197; in 1915, 209, and in 1919, 262. The county school tax in 1915 was $928,000 and in 1919, $1,675,000. Teachers' cottages: in 1911, two in two counties; in 1915, five in five counties; in 1916, seven in seven counties, and in 1919, 25 in 16 counties. There are now at least thirty or forty. Real consolidated schools with free transportation: in 1911, one; in 1915, six; in 1919, 19 and 1921 at least 25 or 30. For transportation in Kentucky there are now twenty times as many motor busses as there were three years ago.

"Several large projects have been effected in the last few months, a number of counties are to be studied with a view to a country-wide consolidated program. It is now believed that Shelby and perhaps a few others can boast of 100 per cent consolidation within another year. The sentiment is growing everywhere."

Mr. Chapman said there were 13,000 consolidated rural schools in the United States, made up of 65,000 former districts and attended by 2,000,000 pupils, who are given free transportation.

RUM RUNNING ON CANADIAN BORDER

Burlington, Vt., April 21.—Smuggling of whisky across the Canadian border into Vermont will be virtually restricted after May 1 to the small supply that trickles through satchels, boot-legs and hip pockets, in the opinion of prohibition agents here.

On that date a Dominion law limiting each purchase of whisky to a single quart becomes effective. While beers and wines flow freely north of the line, United States officers do not anticipate any flood on this side because the profits in these light liquors are too small to tempt the rum-runners.

Recent seizures have indicated a concerted effort to rush large stocks of whisky into the state before the Canadian one-quart limit is enforced. Automobile traffic, formerly the principal underground source is less used nowadays, but now and then a loaded car is caught slipping with muffled motor along the paths of the border. Scores of machines have been abandoned recently by parties that were checked by vigilant guards.

Most of the shipments, however, have been made by freight car in recent months. False sides had been built into lumber cars and whisky in large quantities concealed in the skillfully constructed bins. Spirits have come across the line also hidden in hay, grain, potatoes and shipments of a similar nature. Some have fallen into the revenue officers' hands before leaving the railway tracks.

Capture of liquor cached in freight cars, however, is more or less a matter of luck, the enforcement agents admit and this is the chief reason for the use of this means of smuggling by the men who thereby avoid risk of their persons or automobiles.

AMERICAN FLIERS GET POLISH LAND

Warsaw, April 21.—Nine American members of the Kosciuszko air squadron, all soldiers of fortune, recently were awarded 40 acres of land each, near the Polish-Russian frontier as outlined by the Riga peace treaty.

All officers and soldiers of the Polish forces are being provided with tracts along Poland's eastern boundary, under a system worked out by the government, provided they take up cultivation of the land upon leaving the military service. By this plan, Poland hopes to have trained men settled permanently where they would be handy for service in case the country is ever again attacked from the east.

Most of the young fliers of the Kosciuszko squadron are planning to return to America during the summer. If they do not settle up on the land within a specified time, their rights to the farms will be forfeited. As yet none of the Americans has made up his mind to settle down on a Polish plot and lead the life of a peasant. Several of the Americans were reared in the country, but they say the excitement of flying and the thrills of war have spoiled them for the back-to-the-farm movement.

SCHOOL TEACHER EDUCATION VENDOR

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., April 21.—The school teacher is a salesman of education and his wares can best be "sold" through a greater attention to modern things—the things around the pupils in daily life—Prof. Zeno E. Scott, superintendent of the Louisville public schools, declared in an address before the Kentucky Educational Association here today. He spoke on "Selling Education."

"Our school poems of today should not be 'Balaklappas,' but rather 'On Flanders Field,' 'America's Answer,' etc.," he said.

He asserted that the teacher must "know" what he is trying to sell and that "what to sell now is as important as how to sell."

"There ought to be no discussion on certain vital subjects to be emphasized now in schools," he said. "Make use of the causes of the great war, our participation in it, the stand which Americans take in regard to Americanism, the necessity for civic standards and ideals in keeping with our heritage. No more important subject matter can be found, and its interest ought to be vital for years to come. Now is the time for our children to study why we went to war, what we did during the war, why we honor and revere our soldiers and sailors who fought so gallantly."

It is impossible to teach all that textbooks contain, Prof. Scott told the teachers gathered here. From them, however, the fundamentals should be taught, but in such a way that that which is important will stand out. "The facts of great significance for us to consider," he said, "are that children are living out of the school as well as in the schools. They are living on the street, on playgrounds, in the home, in church, through newspapers, stories, magazines, and moving pictures. "One who is selling education cannot succeed with our children in 1921 unless a big part of his selling energy is spent in such a way that he is able to sell to the school child that which will help him on the street, in the home, at industry and at the play as well as in school. Whether we wish it or not the teacher is asked today to make the selection from these teaching materials and guide the child, to direct his energies, and to assist him in his selection."

Whether we wish it or not the teacher is asked today to make the selection from these teaching materials and guide the child, to direct his energies, and to assist him in his selection."

Boys and girls, he said, should be taught why they learn. In doing this, he said, the teacher can secure increased effort and interest. The pupils will be happier and more content.

The greatest obligation of the teachers today, he said, is "to inspire boys and girls in the right way of acting and living now." "We cannot solve our problems by wishing that we lived in another age or by bemoaning the fact that the world is moving too fast," he continued. "Our better selling plan is to become a part of the forward movement by appreciating what it is and adding our activities to the forward movement."

Broadmindedness is important in a teacher and if he cannot use the materials of today he is not able to compete with the "rapid pace of teaching in 1921."

"One may say the teacher who is broadminded enough to understand the world around him," said Prof. Scott, "and to set it forth in such colors that the boys and girls, whom he leads, believe in the world and recognize that they are a part of it, he has sold education and sold it well."

Boys and girls, he said, should be taught why they learn. In doing this, he said, the teacher can secure increased effort and interest. The pupils will be happier and more content.
